McCandless May Protest Election—
Joe Cohen Astonished—Jim Quinn's Troubles.

Special Correspondence.

HONOLULU, Nov. 5.—The past has been a week of working and calculating by democrats and republicans alike. At this writing both sides are as certain of victory as the Turks are of defeat, and the same old rule obtains. Some one will get it in the throat. There was a large gathering at the final rally of the democrats Monday night when McCandless threw the hooks in to Kuhio. The same words may be used in speaking of the republican rally changing only the names of the persons on whom the hooks were directed.

The greatest campaign in the history of the islands is that made by Cohen. He has been without an organ though the Advertiser is obviously not a republican nor democratic mouthpiece and consequently, might have boosted Joe to victory. Its attitude in the support Parker has been much admired—by the straight out republicans, and created smiles on faces of those who have lived here a long time, and who know Sam's ability as a business man. Before this letter is closed the result will have been wired you for that reason there is no use prophesying results.

JIM QUINN'S AFFAIRS.

Domestic infelicity is the cause of a notice inserted in the Advertiser by Ex-Supervisor J. C. Quinn that he will pay no debts unless they have been contracted by him or on his written order. The advertisement was the outcome of a family scrap between Quinn and his wife the otherday, in which the female of the species did not come out second best. The green eyed monster invaded the Quinn home shortly after the genial James went over to the other side of the island and purchased a Chinese wife. It was a departure from all the rules governing marital relationship in polite Anglo Saxon society. But the wife of James' bosom is said

Fine Record For Bowling

Maui can do something else besides elect a straight Republican ticket. The Mauians can play bowls better than most island teams. In fact Ed. Deinert, the biggest fan on the island declares that Maui is going to beat the rest of the clubs in the group.

Puunene leads in the Inter-Island tournament and the team looks like a winner.

As there was some talk about Maui only being an "in and out team with no endurance," Deinert got mad and challenged the Kauai rollers to an endurance contest. The go came off last week, and Deinert and Scholtz represented Puunene.

For three hours and thirty-five minutes these two champions kept knocking 'em down and repeating the dose. Scholtz flattered out 3625 pins while Deinert accounted for 3133.

As the men neared the end of their task they were as fresh as when they started! Now Oahu and Kauai, what's doing?

Vivas' Death Very Sudden

Candidate For County Attorney
Killed On Election Night—
Pure Accident.

There was only one serious thing to spoil the fine, glorious, Republican clean sweep on Maui. That was the terrible accident that wiped out the life of poor John Vivas. The well known attorney, who was running as the Democratic candidate for County Attorney, died in the hospital before the results of the election became known.

There is no blame to be attached to anyone in connection with Vivas' death. It was simply one of those fated events that will happen, from time to time. The Coroner's Jury that investigated the matter on Wednesday last returned a verdict of accidental death.

From the story developed at the

THE LATE J. M. VIVAS.
(Killed Accidentally On Election Night.)

inquest it appears that J. B. Thomson and Dan Quill of Puunene were sitting on the front seats of the first named man's car. J. M. Vivas was on the rear seat.

The party was returning to Wailuku from Puunene and, when near the Electric Company's power house, it seems that Thomson, who was driving, got some pipe ashes in his eyes. He swung around the curve and just grazed an electric light post. The front part of the car did not touch the post, but the rear side of the machine must have just scraped it. The hind mud guard was seen to be dented when examined later on.

As soon as Thomson passed the post, Quill turned in his seat and remarked "Hello John." There was no reply and the car was at once stopped. To his horror Thomson found Vivas huddled up on the floor of the car. The man was unconscious and had evidently been stricken by something.

Haste was made to the hospital where everything possible was done by the doctor and nurses. There was no hope for the unfortunate man, however, and he died one hour after the accident happened.

The idea of everybody is that Vivas was asleep on the rear seat. His head was reclining on the side of the car and, when the rear side of the auto grazed the post Vivas was stricken and killed. The man never moved after being hit.

The Lusitana Society was notified of Vivas' death and the body was shipped to Honolulu last Thursday.

H. E. Adams, representing the Mutual Life Co. of New York, is in Wailuku. Mr. Adams has traveled extensively and has gathered a great fund of experiences in different countries.

Mrs. Luise C. Jones will sing Sunday evening, Dudley Buck's "My Redeemer and My Lord." The choir will repeat the Anthem used in education Sunday, "The Lord is in His Holy Temple," by request.

MAUI GOES REPUBLICAN AND KEEPS GOOD MEN IN

Voters Declare They Are Satisfied With Present Officials
---Supervisors to Have New Chairman---Quiet Day---Kaupo First In.

Maui was true to the G. O. P. on Tuesday last, and the results of the election on this island showed that the Republican Spirit is just as strong today on the Valley Island as at any time in the past.

The election proceeded very quietly and, except for a family scrap or two, the day was gone through with only hard work and intervals for refreshment.

RESULTS POSTED.

The Maui News kept the public informed of the results of both the local, Oahu and Mainland elections. The news from Honolulu and the coast was very meager, and all efforts were directed to keeping the Maui figures straight. A big crowd gathered outside the News office and, as the results were posted on the black board, cheers went up from the delighted Republicans.

It was after midnight before the final figures for Maui were announced. The crowd then melted away and except for a fight or two, every thing was quiet. As far as Maui went, the only real interest was taken in the contest between Coelho and Kalama, for the Chairmanship of the Board of Supervisors. All the other contests were won before a vote was cast.

COELHO AND KALAMA.

In connection with the fight for the Chairmanship, it will be noticed that both men fell away down on the vote. This is accounted for by the fact that Coelho and Kalama are both Union men. The brethren were not disposed to vote for either candidate in case, by doing so, they might injure the other "brother". One of the Union's creeds is that no brother can injure another.

FIRST NEWS IN

The first return in to the News office was that of Kaupo, that started the ball rolling and, incidentally, showed how strong Kuhio was on the other side of the island.

It was not till nine o'clock or so that the returns began to come in fast. A willing body of volunteers

Honolulu News.

HONOLULU, Nov. 8.—Chief of Detectives McDuffie leaves for China on the steamship "China." The Chief is after Chong, the absconding bank clerk, who got away with $15,000.

Kuhio, who won out from McCandless by a big majority, spent $1,200 in the campaign.

McCandless has not yet decided to contest the election.

The Republicans in the Legislature are not strong enough to control the House. There is danger of a deadlock.

G. J. Waller is candidate for Governor; Isenberg for Secretary of Territory; Effinger for Auditor; Trent for Territorial Treasurer and half a dozen men are mentioned for United States District Attorney.

R. W. Breckons is said to be resigning at once.

HONOLULU, Nov. 7.—The following figures are now available. Mayor, Fern, 2605; Hustace, 675; Sam Parker, 2033. Sheriff, Jarrett, 4162; Bob Parker, 2167. County Attorney, Cathcart, 3298; J. Lightfoot, 3225. Only one Republican Supervisor elected (Cox). Two Republican Representatives (Cooke and Watkins.)

C. K. Chong, for fourteen years in the employ of the First National Bank, has defaulted to the tune of thousands. He is said to have left on the "Siberia". He may be brought back from Yokohama.

W. C. Moore sues his wife for divorce and names Captain Houdlette the man in the case.

Coast News.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 7.—Complete returns show Roosevelt to lead by 457.

CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—Wilson carried the election here by 10,000. He carried Kansas by 15,000.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 8.—Governor Johnson controls California.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—President Taft returned to town today.

COUNTY WILL CONSTRUCT ROAD TO HALEAKALA TOP

Supervisors Decide To Do Work---Right-of-Way Will Be Sought---Biggest Job Maui Has Ever Tackled.

Haleakala will be accessible by auto within a year from now. The County of Maui will build the road, and preliminary inquiries are now being made.

It was all brought about at the meeting of the Board of Supervisors last Thursday. The Solons went on record as being in favor of building the road and steps are to be taken at once to obtain the necessary right-of-way through the Haleakala Ranch lands.

As soon as the right-of-way is secured, the surveyors will get to work and select the best route to be followed. The engineers and road builders will follow, and actual work will begin within a short time.

All Maui and, in fact, the whole group, should rejoice over the news. With Haleakala within easy reach by automobile, the tourist trade will grow by leaps and bounds.

The eight miles of road that must be built will cost a good deal of money, but the County of Maui feels strong enough to tackle the job. Maui No Ka Oi.

Hana Is Mad Right Along

Claudine's Visit this Week Stirs Up Town
People---Big Kick From Village.

[Special Correspondence.]

HANA Nov. 6.

The Claudine, on her usual run from Honolulu arrived at Hana on Saturday night, at 7:30. The villagers were notified that the steamer would return a day earlier on account of election. The crew had to vote which was quite proper. In addition to this we were told that she would be in at 3 a. m. Monday and, if we wanted our freight, we had to be down at 3:30 a. m. to receive it.

Well, well, what next? Instead of coming in at 3 a. m., she came along Sunday evening at 9:30, and at 3 a. m. Monday, she blew her whistle for all hands to turn out and go to work. This was about the limit for the peaceful populace of Hana.

There is no hurry at all, you understand, it is just to show what is to be expected from the steamship service in this islands. Do what they wish or go begging for your freight.

There was absolutely no hurry this week—no need of getting to Kahului any earlier as, by so doing, the poor stock holders are out that extra eight dollars that it costs for docking at the wharf at Kahului before 12 noon.

Of course we must not forget the fact there was a lot of satisfaction in making the beggars at Hana hump their freight this week.

PASSENGER TRAFFIC.

It seems about time that, for the comfort of the steerage passengers travelling on our Island boats, better accommodation should be furnished them. It is too bad that some good citizen did not call Secretary Fisher's attention to this. It is bad enough to travel as it is, but have you ever stopped to think what agony and suffering goes on in the steerage department of these Island boats?

You, who have never seen the steerage of these boats, should go down and peep into this department—any one steamer will be enough. Here is where our Humane Officer could do a lot of good. Just picture to yourself if you were poor and had to put up with the state of affairs. Thousands go through this ordeal every year. We hope the Representative from Hana will be able to have a bill passed in this next session of the Legislature, where by the steamship Company will be compelled to put in berths for each individual passenger.

If this is impossible, let them go out of business as passengers boats. Here is a matter that our Delegate Kuhio should bring before the 63rd Congress at Washington if it is now in the power of Hawaiian Legislature to give the matter its full attention.

It is up to our Republican Senators and Representatives now elected to give this matter their immediate attention when they meet at Honolulu this coming Session.

It would not be a bad idea for a few of our Honorable elected gentlemen to make the trip to Honolulu in the steerage so that they will be able to talk intelligently on the subject.

Kiawe Bean Going Strong

Company That Bought Rinear Patents
Boosting Industry Along
To Success.

W. H. Hoogs, representing the syndicate that bought out the Rinear algaroba mill patent, was on Maui during the week.

Mr. Hoogs, who is well known to everybody, is deeply interested in the algaroba industry and he and his partners are getting down to real work regarding the turning of the Kiawe bean into a well balanced ration that will take the place of imported barley, corn and oats. And, when one stops to remember that in one year—1911—the huge sum of $1,750,000 was spent on imported stock feed, the magnitude of the industry that is to supplant the foreign stuff, can be imagined. Mr. Hoogs company is getting in touch with all the plantation people and the results, so far, are very encouraging.

The difficulty caused formerly by the excess of oil in the bean and which clogged the rollers of the mill, has been removed. The crushing of the algaroba bean goes on as easily as possible now, says Mr. Hoogs.

Mr. Hoogs, who was on the Hawaiian Promotion Committee for years, is a great traveller. He has visited most parts of the world and, last year paid a flying trip to Australia. He was entertained there by the biggest men of the Commonwealth, and was shown everything of interest. The Honolulu man returned to Hawaii an ardent booster for the Island Continent.

While on Maui Mr. Hoogs took an active interest in local affairs. He declared that Wailuku is a fine, clean up-to-date town. "It is a pleasure to see such a town," he said. "I think that the town is simply fine. You have excellent hotels, and the way the election news was given out on Tuesday night would have been credit to a much larger place than Wailuku."

The much traveled one left for Hilo on the Mauna Kea. He will place the algaroba proposition before the plantation manager and others of the "Big Island."

Alley Record For Five Men

Down at Puunene all sorts of records in the bowling line are being shattered. The story of the great endurance record is given elsewhere and now here is another one that compels attention.

The five man record was made at Puunene last week and the men and scores were as follow:

	1	2	3	Total	Aver.
Bal	204	188	226	618	206.0
Chillingworth	193	204	188	585	195.0
Myers	201	199	203	603	201.0
Savage	148	171	148	467	155.6
Scholtz	136	159	157	452	150.6
	882	921	922	2725	Total.

got a good start on school building that is now going up in the town of Hana.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Anderson, of the Nabiku Rubber Co., are back again after an extended trip to the Congress of Rubber men at New York. Their many friends were glad to see them looking so well.
